Description

Today, purple links are on the web page and if someone tries to click on a purple link, the player modal disappears.

What we need:
- extend player modal to the left
- in the left "column", add all the purple links
- if user clicks on purple link, a modal (as it is shown today) should be shown on top of the player modal
- if user clicks on purple link result, a new tab should be opened just like a new tab is opened today.
